Executive summary

Teluvia is the trading name of TELUVIA LIMITED, a UK business communications and IT services group based in Birchwood, Cheshire. Revenue has grown from £72 million in 2019 to £164 million in 2025, largely through acquisitions (the company counts 14 since 2020), with 683 staff. About 38% of revenue is commission from network partners, mainly one national mobile network, under a deal renewed in 2023 to about 2028.

By share count Harbourside's funds own about half of the top company, Orrin Topco, founder Stephen Marlowe about a quarter and chief executive Lewis Carver 6%; Calder, the lender of about £178 million, also holds shares. The group is profitable before financing but has made a loss every year since 2019, about £125 million in all; net debt is £201 million and £26 million of acquisition payments remain owed. The auditor raised no concern, and the trading company itself is profitable, scores 99 out of 100 for credit and has no county court judgments.

Nothing found suggests sanctions, insolvency or criminal conduct by the company. Its record on consent is mixed: an Information Commissioner fine in 2017, an Ofcom fine in 2019 on Quillstream while it was a group subsidiary, and informal Ofcom engagement over sales practices in 2024. Teluvia is in a long dispute with the seller of Novagram Group, during which it admitted an employee tried to conceal access to the other side's systems. Overall risk is medium.

The owners need attention. Mr Marlowe and Mr Carver run consumer businesses that sell paid add-ons through free trials and draw regulatory rulings and complaints; they lend them £4.6 million and sold one company to Teluvia in June 2026. The public record shows three insolvent liquidations of their companies in 2009 and 2010 that left creditors, including the tax authority and employees, unpaid, and a 2002 misconduct claim against Mr Marlowe that was dropped. Mr Carver was acquitted of causing death by dangerous driving in 2017.

The chairman, Jonathan Ashdown, sat on the board of Telvana plc when it entered administration in 2008. No director is sanctioned, politically exposed, bankrupt or disqualified. Technically, a database service is reachable from the internet and staff passwords are in circulation.

Background information

Teluvia sells business mobile contracts (mainly on one national network), connectivity, cloud phone systems, IT support and cyber security services to UK businesses, directly and through resellers via Teluvia Partners. It grew by acquisition after Harbourside and Calder funded the business in 2019, and in 2026 launched an artificial intelligence platform (Aura) and a voice service that screens calls for cloned voices; these product descriptions are the company's own.

Customer feedback is broadly positive but carries a persistent thread of complaints about contract terms and sales practices. The regulator said in 2024 that it was not formally investigating the company.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Business: business mobile, connectivity, cloud voice and IT managed services	● Confirmed	Teluvia describes itself as one of the UK's leading independent business communications providers and a long-standing partner of a national mobile network; that is its own claim. Its registered activity is other telecommunications activities (61900). About 84% of revenue is recurring, according to the 2025 strategic report.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Formed in 2013 by merging Marlowe Telecom and Dialsmith Direct	● Probable	Stephen Marlowe's Marlowe Telecom and Lewis Carver's Dialsmith Direct, both based in Birchwood, merged in 2013 to form Teluvia, with Mr Marlowe as chief executive (regional business press, 2013; Carlowe's own pages). The company dates its founding to Mr Marlowe's Marlowe Telecom in 2002.
£80 million investment from Harbourside and Calder credit funds, September 2019	● Confirmed	Harbourside, the private equity arm of a UK banking group, led the investment with credit funds managed by an affiliate of Calder Credit Management. Jonathan Ashdown, formerly chief executive of Orvantel (Quillnet), became chairman and Mr Marlowe a non-executive director (press reports, 16 September 2019). The security documents were registered on 12 September 2019 (Companies House).
Acquisition-led growth: Novagram Group, Laurel, Caddwell, Quadrant	● Confirmed	Teluvia bought the Novagram Group businesses on 28 February 2021 for about £48 million plus an earn-out of up to £12 million (Commercial Court judgment, 2024); Laurel Communications in 2021; Caddwell Communications on 15 July 2025; and Quadrant Business Group on 30 January 2026 for up to £3.0 million (group accounts). It also took over the customer base of Clearline Telecom in 2018 after Ofcom had fined that company. The company says it has made 14 acquisitions in five years.
Five chief executive changes since 2018, three in ten months	● Confirmed	Simon Garrick was chief executive from late 2018 until October 2020; Stephen Marlowe returned; Andrew Kessler (from Laurel) led from 2021 to July 2025; Mr Marlowe led again until 30 April 2026; Lewis Carver has been group chief executive since 1 May 2026. Mr Marlowe described the business as 'ready to grow again' at the last change, suggesting a difficult 2025 (press reports; director appointments and resignations at Companies House). The company bought back and cancelled shares in 2025 and 2026 in connection with these changes (2025 group accounts).
Customer reviews: about 11,200 reviews averaging 4 out of 5	● Probable	On Trustpilot most reviews are positive, but a steady minority of one-star reviews complain about long contracts, rebates that stop part way through, early termination charges and alleged mis-selling, with some complaints taken to the telecoms ombudsman. In October 2024 Ofcom said in reply to an information request that it was not formally investigating Teluvia.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Modern slavery statement published for 2025	Confirmed	Teluvia Technology Group Limited publishes a statement under section 54 of the Modern Slavery Act for the year to 31 December 2025 on its website; it is not on the government's voluntary register.
Dependent on one mobile network: commissions are 38% of revenue	Probable	Teluvia renewed its main network partnership in November 2023 for five years, covering more than 320,000 business mobile users, described as the network's largest partner deal of its kind. Commissions, largely the network's revenue share, were £62.6 million of £164.2 million revenue in 2025 (trade press; 2025 accounts).
Customer support and development staff hired in India	Probable	The group set up Teluvia Technology (India) Private Limited in 2024 and advertises customer support and development roles in Pune (group accounts; Teluvia vacancies site).

Corporate profile searches

The group's audited accounts show a business that trades profitably before financing costs but carries heavy debt from its private equity structure: about £178 million of bank-style loans from Calder due in 2032, plus high-interest loan notes. Losses after interest have grown the deficit on the balance sheet to £121 million. This is common for buy-and-build groups, but it leaves the group dependent on its lender and on continued cash generation.

The auditor raised no concern about the group's ability to continue. The directors state there is no ultimate controlling party.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Status: active, with filings up to date	Confirmed	Last accounts made up to 31 December 2025; last confirmation statement dated 9 July 2026; next accounts due by 30 September 2027 (Companies House).
Profitable before financing, loss-making after it	Confirmed	In 2025 the group made £30.7 million of management EBITDA but, after £22.7 million of goodwill and other amortisation and £27.4 million of interest, a loss after tax of £30.2 million (2024: £27.2 million). The losses come from acquisition accounting and the funding structure rather than trading, the directors say.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Highly leveraged: net debt of £200.6 million	● Confirmed	On 16 January 2025 the group repaid £135.3 million of loans and drew new loans from existing lender Calder in four tranches (£117.6m, £45.0m, £10.6m and £4.1m) at 3.50% to 6.36% over the sterling overnight rate, all due on 16 January 2032 and secured on the group's assets. A further £35.8 million of loan notes carry 12% interest, with £45.1 million of interest accrued on them. Net liabilities were £121.1 million at 31 December 2025.
Clean audit opinion; no going-concern warning	● Confirmed	Pryce Hartley Audit LLP gave an unmodified opinion and concluded the going concern basis is appropriate. The directors state the group can operate within its loan covenants under downside scenarios.
Trading with the founders' private companies	● Confirmed	In 2025 the group sold £215,363 of services to, bought £423,801 from and paid £168,505 rent to related parties: companies with common directors or shareholders that were formerly subsidiaries of Teluvia Group Limited (note 32 of the group accounts). The accounts state these were on arm's length terms.
Parent renamed Teluvia Technology Group Limited, 30 June 2026	● Confirmed	Company 97157698 was TELUVIA LTD (2012), TELUVIA GROUP LIMITED (2013 to 2026) and is now TELUVIA TECHNOLOGY GROUP LIMITED. Court cases before this date use the old name (Companies House).
Revenue more than doubled since 2019, losses every year	● Confirmed	Revenue rose from £71.9 million (2019) to £164.2 million (2025), mainly through acquisitions in 2021. Every year since the buyout has ended in a loss after tax, about £125 million in total, and the deficit on the balance sheet has grown from £2.0 million to £121.1 million (group accounts 2019 to 2025).
Most revenue is solutions and network commissions	● Confirmed	In 2025: solutions £81.9 million, commissions £62.6 million (largely the mobile revenue share from network partners), products £16.5 million, services £2.6 million; all in the United Kingdom (note 3 of the 2025 accounts).
£25.57 million of acquisition payments still owed	● Confirmed	The 2025 accounts carry £25,566,624 of deferred, results-dependent consideration for past acquisitions, unchanged since 2024, of which £9,566,624 sits in creditors. The accounts do not say which purchases it relates to. The Novagram Group purchase alone included £18.0 million of held-back and deferred price and an earn-out set at £3.88 million (2024 judgment).

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Board pay and redundancy costs rose in 2025	● Confirmed	Directors were paid £1,151,417 in 2025, including £654,431 of redundancy pay; the highest-paid director received £772,388. Caddwell cost £14.6 million, funded by borrowing	● Confirmed	Caddwell Communications was bought on 15 July 2025 for £14,591,396, of which £14,250,822 came from loan funding; £9.1 million was goodwill (2025 accounts).
21 subsidiaries, including one in India	● Confirmed	The group lists 21 subsidiaries, among them Teluvia Technology (India) Private Limited; 17 others, including K3P (Group) and the Laurel companies, were dissolved in 2025 as acquisitions were folded in (2025 accounts).
The trading company itself is profitable	● Confirmed	TELUVIA LIMITED's own accounts show revenue of £143.0 million in 2025 (up 9%), profit before tax of £16.2 million and 472 staff; profit before tax was £18.1 million in 2024 and £24.2 million in 2023. It paid its parent a £30 million dividend in 2021 and none since, and is owed £27.0 million by other group companies, interest free (company accounts; commercial credit report).

Commercial credit reports

Teluvia's trading company has the strongest possible credit standing on the commercial model read: a score of 99 out of 100 and a recommended limit of £5.4 million, with no county court judgments and suppliers paid close to terms. Its payment record is also filed with the government twice a year and is steady.

The holding companies that carry the group's debt score lower and are given small limits, which is usual for companies whose main assets are shares in subsidiaries.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Pays suppliers in 37 to 54 days on average	● Confirmed	Across the last eight half-years the average time to pay ranged from 33 to 54 days, against standard terms of 30 days for most suppliers (60 or 120 days for stock). In the latest period 19% of invoices took more than 60 days and 7% were paid outside agreed terms (government payment practices reports). The January to June 2025 report states a late-paid value larger than the total paid that period, which looks like a filing error.
Every payment report filed on time since 2018	● Confirmed	Eighteen half-yearly reports, each published within about six weeks of the period end; the group has not signed the Fair Payment Code and offers no supply-chain finance.
Credit score 99 out of 100; recommended limit £5.4 million	● Confirmed	A commercial credit model rates TELUVIA LIMITED very low risk, at 96 to 99 since December 2022, with a recommended credit limit of £5,400,000 (December 2025, up from £2.36 million in 2022). Read 10 October 2026.

The holding companies have modest credit limits	● Confirmed	Teluvia Technology Group scores 92 (limit £120,000), Teluvia Partners 72 (£520,000), Caddwell 70 (£96,000) and Orrin Topco 55 (£80,000); none has a county court judgment. Holding companies with large group debts typically score lower than the trading company.

Civil litigation searches

Teluvia is a frequent commercial litigant, mostly as claimant and mostly arising from acquisitions. The most significant matter is the dispute with the seller of Novagram Group, which spans a warranty claim and a wider claim with counterclaims. In that case Teluvia had to correct its own evidence, including that an employee had tried to conceal access to the other side's systems.

No claim by a regulator or a customer group against Teluvia was found in the judgments searched.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Suing the seller of Novagram Group for £2.6 million	Confirmed	Teluvia Group Limited sued Neil Haddon for breach of warranty under the 28 February 2021 share purchase. On 9 May 2024 the Commercial Court refused his application to strike the claim out as time-barred; his estoppel defence goes to trial. An independent accountant set the earn-out due to Mr Haddon at £3,879,266 (Teluvia Group Ltd v Haddon, Commercial Court, 2024).
Wider dispute with Ember Connect and Mr Haddon, with counterclaims	Probable	Teluvia Group and Teluvia Partners sued Ember Connect, JW Telecom, Mr Haddon and Craig Whitfield in September 2024 over exclusion from a portal used to serve customers. Counsel for Mr Haddon describe the disputes as including claims of hacking, unlawful means conspiracy and breach of confidence, crossclaims for deferred consideration and earn-out, and injunction applications concerning a winding-up petition. Court listings show activity in November 2025.
Teluvia admitted parts of its court evidence were wrong	Confirmed	In December 2024 Teluvia's solicitors told the court that, contrary to its pleadings, at least one Teluvia Partners employee had tried in May 2023 to conceal the company's use of a program to access Ember Connect's portal, and that use of customer logins to reach the portal was more widespread than its witnesses had said. Teluvia dropped its injunction application and agreed to pay the defendants' costs on the indemnity basis. On 23 April 2025 the court refused the defendants' request for a sworn explanation of how the errors arose (Commercial Court judgment, April 2025).

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Former reseller's pricing claim struck out, August 2026	● Probable	Bramble Voice Solutions, a reseller whose agreement Teluvia Partners ended in February 2025, challenged four price increases. The court struck the claim out as an abuse of process and found most of it would have failed anyway; Teluvia put the overcharging Bramble admitted at under £15,000 (Bramble Voice Solutions Ltd v Teluvia Partners Ltd, Circuit Commercial Court, as reported in the legal press).
The seller of Novagram Group is funding a reseller's claim	● Confirmed	In the August 2026 Bramble judgment the court found that Neil Haddon is engaged in a number of pieces of litigation with the Teluvia group and is funding Bramble's claim, so the wider dispute was still live in mid-2026 (Circuit Commercial Court judgment, August 2026).
Two tribunal claims against Caddwell predate its purchase	● Confirmed	In 2022 a former employee won £2,977.54 from Caddwell Communications for unlawful deductions from wages; a second claim of discrimination and unfair dismissal led to a default award of £74,700.54 that was set aside when Caddwell was allowed to respond late, with no final decision published. Both were before Teluvia bought Caddwell in July 2025 (employment tribunal decisions). No tribunal decision names Teluvia as employer.

Watch list searches

Teluvia Limited, nine related companies and the directors were screened against 73 sanctions, enforcement and politically exposed person lists. The only true match is the regulator's own record of the 2017 penalty. Directors' results are under directors and officers.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
On a regulatory enforcement list for the 2017 penalty	● Confirmed	TELUVIA LIMITED appears on the Information Commissioner's civil monetary penalties list (final notice 18 July 2017, £80,000, paid). This is the same matter set out under adverse media. No sanctions listing was found.
No sanctions or watch-list match for ten related companies	● Confirmed	Teluvia Technology Group, Orrin Topco, Orrin Bidco, Teluvia Partners, Harbourside (Managers), Carlowe Capital, Quillstream, Handsetly, Shieldora and Trivello Club were screened against sanctions, enforcement and watch lists with no match.
2 enforcement list entries under the same or a similar name could not be attributed to Teluvia	○ Unverified	Entries for an Australian company and an overseas investment scheme with similar names; neither shares the registration, country or address of Teluvia Limited.

Adverse media searches

Two regulators have penalised businesses in this group's orbit for marketing and sales practices: the Information Commissioner fined Teluvia itself in 2017, and Ofcom fined Quillstream in 2019 for conduct while it was a group subsidiary. Both matters concern consent: texts sent without it, and phone lines switched without it.

Coverage since 2019 about Teluvia itself is mainly about deals, products and leadership. No formal regulatory action against it was found after 2019, though Ofcom engaged with it informally over sales practices. The consent theme continues in the founders' separate consumer businesses, set out under other adverse information.

Fined £80,000 by the Information Commissioner in 2017 ● Corporate Malfeasance, medium severity	● Confirmed	Teluvia sent 2.6 million marketing text messages between November 2015 and April 2016 without being able to show the recipients' consent, prompting 870 complaints. The final notice is dated 18 July 2017 and the penalty was paid (the Commissioner's penalties list; national and trade press, 21 July 2017). Stephen Marlowe was chief executive at the time.
Group subsidiary Quillstream fined £28,000 by Ofcom for slamming, 2019 ● Corporate Malfeasance, medium severity	● Confirmed	Ofcom found Quillstream switched at least 96 people's phone services without consent between May 2018 and February 2019; about two thirds were elderly or vulnerable. The penalty, issued on 11 December 2019, was reduced by 30% for admitting liability. Quillstream Limited was owned by Teluvia Group Limited from September 2016 until 12 September 2019, so the conduct took place inside the Teluvia group; ownership then passed to the founders' Carlowe Capital (Ofcom; Companies House).
Ofcom raised opt-out sales with Quillstream again in 2024 ● Reputational Risk, low severity	● Probable	In August 2024 Quillstream emailed customers that it had enrolled them in a security software trial that would become chargeable unless cancelled. After complaints Ofcom said it would raise the matter with Quillstream, and Quillstream said no one would be charged without opting in. Two price-comparison sites removed Quillstream until it stopped (trade press; national press; a consumer finance site). Quillstream was by then outside the group, owned by Mr Marlowe and Mr Carver.
Ofcom engaged with Teluvia over its sales practices ● Reputational Risk, low severity	● Confirmed	In October 2024 Ofcom said it was not formally investigating Teluvia but had engaged with it over concerns raised, and that Teluvia revised its processes where Ofcom highlighted concern. A second information request about Teluvia's sales practices, billing and charging was answered in May 2026; its content is not published (Ofcom information request replies).

Other adverse information

The founders, now the group's chief executive and a non-executive director and co-owner, also run a set of consumer businesses outside the group that sell paid add-ons through free trials. These businesses have drawn regulatory attention and many complaints. They also trade with the group and, in 2026, sold it a company. This creates related-party and reputational exposure for Teluvia even though the businesses are not owned by it.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Founders' consumer businesses draw repeated complaints about paid add-ons ● Reputational Risk, medium severity	● Probable	Handsetly's terms state that when a seller accepts a free antivirus and VPN trial their bank details pass to Trivello Club Limited, which then collects £8.95 a month for six months and £12.95 after. Many consumer reviews of Shieldora and mobiravo.com say direct debits started after selling or quoting a phone without knowing consent. Handsetly, Shieldora, Trivello Club and mobiravo.com Mobile are all run by Stephen Marlowe and Lewis Carver (Companies House; handsetly.com terms; consumer review sites). No regulator finding on these companies was found.
Group bought a company from its founders' holding company in June 2026 ● Reputational Risk, low severity	● Confirmed	Cloudlane Business Limited passed from Carlowe Capital, owned by Mr Marlowe and Mr Carver, to Teluvia Limited on 30 June 2026; Mr Marlowe resigned as its director the same day (Companies House). The price is not public.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Advertising regulator ruled against Quillstream, September 2026 ● Reputational Risk, low severity	● Confirmed	On 16 September 2026 the Advertising Standards Authority upheld a complaint that Quillstream's £24.49 a month broadband advert did not make clear that two free trials added at checkout renewed for a fee (£6.95 a month and £29.95 a year), and said the advert must not appear again in that form. Earlier complaints about Quillstream (2022, 2024) and Handsetly (2025) were resolved informally (Advertising Standards Authority).
Teluvia donated £4,000 to its local MP in 2017	● Confirmed	The Electoral Commission register records a £4,000 cash donation from Teluvia Ltd to the local member of Parliament, accepted in June 2017. Political donations by companies are lawful if reported.
Information Commissioner asked Quillstream to fix a credit reporting complaint	● Confirmed	A tribunal decision of December 2025 records that in August 2025 the Commissioner told Quillstream it had more work to do on a customer's complaint that it reported wrong payment data to a credit agency (First-tier Tribunal decision). This was a complaint outcome, not enforcement.
The paid-trial model moved to a new company in December 2025 ● Reputational Risk, low severity	● Probable	Handsetly's terms, updated on 3 December 2025, now pass sellers' bank details to Trivello Club Limited, formed in March 2025, for a 30-day trial that then costs £8.95 a month for six months and £12.95 after. Shieldora, which ran the earlier trials, is rated 1.3 out of 5 from 117 reviews. New UK subscription contract rules take effect in January 2027 (handsetly.com terms; review sites; legal press).
The founders' companies have weak credit standing	● Confirmed	Commercial credit reports rate Handsetly 38 (moderate risk, limit £30,800), Shieldora 53 (limit £2,800), Trivello Club 49 (limit £500), Quillstream 56 and Carlowe Capital 69 (each £80,000); all but Trivello Club, which has not yet filed accounts, show liabilities above tangible assets, and none has a county court judgment (10 October 2026).

Ownership and beneficial interests

Control is shared. By share count Harbourside's funds hold about half of the top company and Stephen Marlowe about a quarter; Harbourside's class can take 75% of the votes if a defined trigger event occurs. Calder is both the main lender and, with co-lenders, a small shareholder.

How sale proceeds are divided depends on an exit hurdle in the articles, which are not summarised here.

The co-founder and chief executive, Lewis Carver, holds about 6% directly and his other business interests through Carlowe, which he owns with Mr Marlowe and which runs the consumer businesses described under other adverse information.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Stephen Marlowe and Harbourside each own more than a quarter of the group	● Confirmed	Orrin Topco Limited's register names Stephen Alan Marlowe (notified 27 November 2025, the date of a share allotment) and Harbourside (Managers) Limited (since 12 September 2019), each holding more than 25% but not more than 50% of shares and votes. The register shows only these bands; the share counts from the company's statements are set out below.
The directors state there is no ultimate controlling party	● Confirmed	Note 34 of the 2025 group accounts. Control is shared between the founder and Harbourside, the private equity arm of a UK banking group.
Founders previously owned it outright	● Confirmed	Stephen and Helen Marlowe were registered as jointly holding 75% or more of Teluvia Group Limited from April 2016 until the Harbourside investment on 12 September 2019 (Companies House).
Lewis Carver holds about 6% of the group and half of Carlowe	● Confirmed	Mr Carver holds 6,126 shares in Orrin Topco, below the 25% level for the ownership register. He and Mr Marlowe each hold more than 25% to 50% of Carlowe Capital Limited, which owns Quillstream, Handsetly, Shieldora, Trivello Club and Idvanta Protect (Companies House).
By number of shares: Harbourside about half, Marlowe a quarter, Carver 6%	● Confirmed	Of about 97,073 shares in issue, Harbourside's funds hold 48,119 (about 50%), Stephen Marlowe 24,504 (25%), Lewis Carver 6,126 (6%), Calder and its co-lenders 4,616 (5%) and managers the rest (14%) (confirmation statements and share returns). How sale proceeds are split depends on an exit hurdle in the articles, so economic shares can differ from these counts.
Harbourside can take 75% of the votes if a trigger event occurs	● Confirmed	The share rights give A shareholders (Harbourside's funds) 75% of all votes cast if an 'enhanced voting right event' occurs, as defined in the articles; such clauses usually cover a breach of the investment terms or loan covenants (confirmation statement, November 2025).

Finding	Confidence	Detail
The lenders are also shareholders	● Confirmed	Calder funds and co-lenders Hollins European Insurance, a European private debt fund and Strata European Direct Lending 1 hold the 4,616 B shares (confirmation statement, November 2025).

Digital footprint and exposure

No published software weakness was reported against the versions seen. The concerns are configuration: a database service reachable from the internet, file transfer and remote login on a web server, and many development systems visible by name. Teluvia sells cyber security services, so its own exposure carries reputational as well as technical weight.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Domain teluvia.co.uk registered 14 March 2001	Confirmed	Registrar 123-Reg; name servers at Cloudflare; renewed to 14 March 2027 (domain registration records).
96 host names and 20 cloud servers	Confirmed	Teluvia's internet estate runs mainly on Google Cloud; the public website sits behind a shared delivery network (internet scanning data).
A database service answers from the internet on two servers	Confirmed	Redis, an in-memory database, was seen on port 6379 at 203.0.113.73 and at 192.0.2.102, which serves development-2-gateway-api.teluvia.co.uk. If it accepts connections without a password it can expose or alter data.
File transfer and remote login open on a web server	Confirmed	203.0.113.174, which serves teluvia.co.uk, accepts file transfer (port 21) and secure shell (port 22) connections.
Development and data systems are named in public	Confirmed	Host names such as meridian-dev, analytics-dev, data-governance-dev, airflow-dev, airbyte-dev, workflows-dev, teluvcloud-dev-portal, sandbox-portal and development-2-gateway-api reveal test and data platforms to anyone mapping the domain.
1,445 certificates for 76 names since 2013	Confirmed	Public certificate logs list 76 names under teluvia.co.uk, 34 with a current certificate. Live certificates cover development and data systems such as meridian-dev, analytics-dev, airflow-dev and sandbox-portal. Older remote-access names (remote, vpn, staging) were last certified between 2014 and 2024.
Email spoofing protection is set to quarantine	Confirmed	teluvia.co.uk publishes a policy telling receivers to quarantine mail that fails checks, but its list of permitted senders includes broad shared ranges of bulk-mail and cloud services and ends in a soft fail, which weakens it (domain records, 10 October 2026).

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Quillstream's domain has no spoofing policy	● Confirmed	quillstream.co.uk, the founders' consumer broadband brand, publishes no email authentication policy, so its name is easier to impersonate in phishing aimed at its customers. Quillstream and Handsetly send mail through the same server address (domain records).

Breach and dark web exposure

Exposure is typical in volume for a sales-led company of this size, but the readable passwords, the malware logs and the captured logins to Teluvia's own sites are actionable: they should be checked and reset, and the sites reviewed for unauthorised access.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
1,411 breach records for 669 teluvia.co.uk addresses	● Confirmed	Most come from business-contact databases that leaked names, job titles and phone numbers (DemandScience, Bureau van Dijk, Apollo, People Data Labs). Passwords appear in 254 records: 146 scrambled, 108 readable.
Readable passwords for 32 staff addresses, 26 since 2024	● Confirmed	Recorded in password lists traded on dark web forums and chat channels between 2024 and October 2026. Passwords are masked in the table.
Logins to Teluvia's own sites captured in 2025 and 2026	● Confirmed	Four records list usernames and readable passwords for teluvia.co.uk sites, including one with the username admin, recorded between July 2025 and June 2026. They may belong to staff or customers.
Three staff addresses appear in malware logs	● Confirmed	Records from 2024 to July 2026 come from password-stealing malware logs, meaning a device used with those logins was infected.

Directors and officers

The board combines the two founders, an experienced private equity finance director, an independent chairman and Harbourside's representative. The founder-directors also run the separate Carlowe businesses.

The chief executive's acquittal in 2017 is a matter of public record and was widely reported. He was cleared; the report records it because it is the most prominent coverage of him and because the trial heard of an earlier speeding conviction.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Directors of TELUVIA LIMITED: Lewis Carver and Richard Fenwick	Confirmed	Lewis Andrew Carver (born June 1982) since 1 May 2026 and Richard Edward Fenwick (born August 1967) since 12 June 2025 (Companies House).
Group board adds Stephen Marlowe, Jonathan Ashdown and Laurent Duvernay	Confirmed	Orrin Topco Limited's directors are Mr Carver, Mr Fenwick, Stephen Alan Marlowe (since 12 September 2019), Jonathan Ashdown (born April 1963, appointed chairman in 2019) and Laurent Michel Duvernay (born November 1969, of Harbourside), the last three since 12 September 2019 (Companies House).
Chief executive was tried and acquitted of causing death by dangerous driving in 2017 Reputational Risk, low severity	Probable	In May 2017 a jury at Chester Crown Court found Lewis Carver, then Teluvia's chief operating officer, not guilty of causing death by dangerous driving over the death of a friend, a passenger in the car he was driving when it left a rural road on 27 August 2015. The trial heard he had a 2012 conviction for speeding. Reports gave his age and role, matching his Companies House record (national and regional press). Details in his report.
Directors screened: no sanctions, politically exposed person or disqualification match	Confirmed	Mr Marlowe, Mr Carver, Mr Fenwick, Mr Ashdown, Mr Duvernay and Helen Marlowe, a former director, were screened against 73 lists and the disqualified directors register.
31 watch-list and register records under the same or a similar name could not be attributed to Teluvia	Unverified	Thirty news items about other people named Jonathan Ashdown and one disqualified director of that name born in 1964 (the chairman was born in 1963); none carries an identifier of a Teluvia director.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Directors hold many other appointments	● Confirmed	Stephen Marlowe has held 91 appointments across three registry records (25 current), Lewis Carver 62 across two registry records, and Richard Fenwick 196, most as finance director of private equity groups. None of their companies is in insolvency (Companies House).
Nine of 264 companies the directors have served went through insolvency	● Confirmed	Companies House records insolvency for 9 of the 264 companies the seven directors and former directors have served. Three were solvent closures (members' voluntary liquidations); three administrations began after Mr Marlowe had left those boards; three were insolvent liquidations of the founders' companies in 2009 and 2010, described in their reports.
● Reputational Risk, low severity

Adverse media

The only allegation against him personally found in the press is Ardentel Telecom's 2002 misconduct claim, which its administrators dropped in 2003 as having no case to answer. The public record also shows three insolvent liquidations around 2009 and 2010 in which creditors, including the tax authority and employees, were not paid, and his leadership of companies penalised for consent-related sales practices.

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Chief executive when Teluvia was fined in 2017 ● Reputational Risk, low severity	● Confirmed	He responded to press on the Information Commissioner's £80,000 penalty for marketing texts, saying Teluvia was committed to the highest standards (trade press, July 2017).
Director of Quillstream when Ofcom fined it in 2019 ● Reputational Risk, low severity	● Confirmed	He has been a director of Quillstream Limited since September 2016, through the slamming conduct (2018 to 2019) and the 2024 and 2026 complaints about paid trials (Companies House; Ofcom; press).
His early company Telvexa left £95,200 unpaid, mostly tax ● Reputational Risk, medium severity	● Confirmed	Telvexa Limited (formerly Marlowe Telecom Direct Limited), of which he was a director from 2004 and secretary from 2007, entered creditors' voluntary liquidation on 27 November 2009, five weeks after he and Lewis Carver resigned (20 and 21 October 2009). It owed £95,426, including £72,203 to HM Revenue & Customs, against assets of £323; creditors received nothing. Lewis Carver's Dialsmith Direct bought its equipment and stock from the liquidator for £4,000 (statement of affairs; liquidator's accounts).

Finding	Confidence	Detail
Two companies he joined in December 2009 failed within weeks ● Reputational Risk, low severity	● Confirmed	He became a director of R.K.T. Communications Limited (trading as Linkwave Telecom) and Alder Time Limited on 18 December 2009, and a member of Rivington (NW) LLP, which held security over both. They entered creditors' voluntary liquidation on 28 January and 11 February 2010 with deficits of £728,115 and £139,578; Alder Time was then wound up by court order on 12 April 2010 on a petition presented the day after its liquidation began. R.K.T. owed employees £354,835 and HM Revenue & Customs £199,816; no dividend was paid to any creditor. Another director signed the statements of affairs (liquidation filings; Companies House).
Accused of misconduct by Ardentel Telecom in 2002; claim dropped ● Reputational Risk, low severity	● Probable	After he became chief executive of Ardentel Telecom, which had bought Phonquest for £12 million in cash and £12 million in shares in 2000, the company accused him of misconduct, sued him in the High Court and alleged Phonquest's profits had been overstated. He resigned in 2002, denied it and counter-claimed. In December 2003 Ardentel's administrators withdrew the action, saying there was no case to answer (national and financial press, 2002 and 2003).
Lost a 2014 Court of Appeal case against a former director	● Probable	He and Marlowe Telecom Communications Group sued Gary Lomax, a former director, over the value of his shares and lost on appeal in 2014 (Court of Appeal judgment as reported by a legal database).

Risk assessment

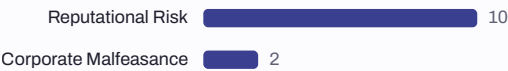

No sanctions, insolvency or criminal finding against the company, but a record of consent-related regulatory action in the group, contested litigation, high leverage and dependence on one mobile network, related-party dealings with the founders' consumer businesses, and insolvent liquidations in the founders' past.

The level reflects the most serious finding in which the subject is the party at issue. Coverage that only mentions the subject, and published vulnerabilities in its own products, are reported but do not raise it.

Research record

The questions were settled from primary records first: Companies House for identity, ownership, officers, security and insolvency history; the audited accounts for finances; published judgments and regulators' own records for disputes and penalties. Press was used for context and for matters no register holds.

Who owns and controls Teluvia?

Teluvia Limited sits under Teluvia Technology Group, Orrin Bidco and Orrin Topco. Orrin Topco is owned by Stephen Marlowe and Harbourside, each with between 25% and 50%. The directors state there is no ultimate controlling party. Calder, the lender, holds security over the group.

Answered. Sources consulted: Companies House, page reading.

Is the group financially sound?

It trades profitably before financing, with £30.7 million of management EBITDA on £164 million of revenue in 2025, but interest and amortisation produce yearly losses of about £28 million. Net debt is £201 million and net liabilities £121 million. The auditor raised no going-concern doubt and the main loans run to 2032.

Answered. Sources consulted: page reading.

Has a regulator ever penalised Teluvia?

Yes. The Information Commissioner fined Teluvia £80,000 in July 2017 for 2.6 million marketing texts sent without consent; it was paid. Ofcom fined Quillstream, then a group subsidiary, £28,000 in 2019 for switching customers' lines without consent. Ofcom said in 2024 it was not formally investigating Teluvia.

Answered. Sources consulted: news search, page reading, regulator records, enhanced screening.

What litigation is Teluvia involved in?

Mainly disputes it started after acquisitions: a £2.6 million warranty claim and a wider claim with counterclaims against the seller of Novagram Group and his new business, in which Teluvia had to correct its evidence. A former reseller's pricing claim against it was struck out in August 2026.

Answered. Sources consulted: court records, page reading.

How are Quillstream, Handsetly and the other Carlowe businesses connected to Teluvia?

They are owned through Carlowe Capital by Stephen Marlowe and Lewis Carver, who also lead Teluvia. Quillstream was a Teluvia subsidiary until September 2019. The group trades with these companies, rents from related parties and bought Cloudlane Business from Carlowe in June 2026.

Answered. Sources consulted: Companies House, page reading.

Is there anything adverse about the people running Teluvia?

The chief executive, Lewis Carver, was acquitted of causing death by dangerous driving in 2017 after a fatal road collision; the trial heard of a 2012 speeding conviction. Both founders direct consumer businesses that draw complaints about paid add-ons. No director is disqualified, sanctioned or politically exposed.

Answered. Sources consulted: news search, watch-list screening, page reading.

How exposed is Teluvia's internet estate?

Moderately. No known software weakness was reported, but a database service answers from the internet on two servers, a web server accepts file transfer and remote login, and development systems are visible by name.

Answered. Sources consulted: infrastructure scan, domain records.

Have staff or customer logins leaked?

Yes. 32 staff addresses have readable passwords in circulation, 26 since 2024; three appear in malware logs; and four logins to Teluvia's own sites, one named admin, were captured in 2025 and 2026.

Answered. Sources consulted: breach search.

What do customers say about Teluvia?

About 11,200 reviews average 4 out of 5. The recurring complaints are about long contracts, rebates that stop, exit charges and alleged mis-selling.

Answered. Sources consulted: web search.

Who exactly owns the shares?

Counting shares, Harbourside's funds hold about half, Stephen Marlowe about a quarter, Lewis Carver 6%, Calder and its co-lenders 5% and about a dozen managers the rest. Harbourside's class takes 75% of the votes if a defined trigger event occurs. How sale proceeds are split depends on an exit hurdle in the articles.

Answered. Sources consulted: Companies House, page reading.

Have the owners' earlier companies failed?

Three of their companies went into insolvent liquidation in 2009 and 2010 without paying creditors, including the tax authority and employees: Telvexa, which both founders left five weeks before, and two companies Mr Marlowe joined weeks before they failed. In 2002 Ardentel Telecom accused Mr Marlowe of misconduct; its administrators dropped the claim in 2003 as having no case to answer. Neither founder is bankrupt or disqualified.

Answered. Sources consulted: Companies House, page reading, news search.

Does Teluvia pay its suppliers on time?

Mostly. It takes 37 to 54 days on average against 30-day terms, with 10% to 19% of invoices paid after 60 days, and has filed every government payment report on time.

Answered. Sources consulted: regulator records.

Who are the other key people and is anything adverse known about them?

The chairman, Jonathan Ashdown, was on the board of Telvana plc when it entered administration in 2008 and has invested alongside Harbourside before. The finance director, Richard Fenwick, joined in June 2025 after two short roles. Harbourside's director, Laurent Duvernay, has no adverse record. None is sanctioned or disqualified.

Answered. Sources consulted: Companies House, news search, watch-list screening.

Is Teluvia creditworthy?

The trading company is: it scores 99 out of 100 on a commercial credit model, with a recommended limit of £5.4 million, no county court judgments, and suppliers paid close to terms. The holding companies carrying the group's debt score lower.

Answered. Sources consulted: commercial credit, regulator records.

Conclusions and recommendations

- 1 Ask Teluvia for the status and exposure of the disputes with Neil Haddon and Ember Connect, including counterclaims and how much of the £25.57 million of deferred acquisition payments is contested.
- 2 Ask how sales consent is governed today (marketing, renewals, add-ons), what Ofcom raised in 2024 and 2026, and for complaint and ombudsman figures for the last two years.
- 3 Request the terms and approval of related-party dealings with Carlowe companies: the June 2026 purchase of Cloudlane Business, trading and rent paid in 2025.
- 4 Ask the founders to explain the 2009 and 2010 liquidations of Telvexa, R.K.T. Communications and Alder Time, in which creditors including HM Revenue & Customs and employees were not paid.
- 5 Review the financing: covenant headroom on the Calder loans due 2032, the 12% loan notes due around 2027, and what counts as an 'enhanced voting right event' for Harbourside.
- 6 Assess dependence on one mobile network: the renewal date of the 2023 agreement and any minimum volume commitments.
- 7 Ask Teluvia to close or restrict the Redis service on 203.0.113.73 and 192.0.2.102 and the file transfer and remote login ports on 203.0.113.174.
- 8 Have the 32 staff addresses with readable leaked passwords, the three in malware logs and the four captured site logins reset, and check those devices and sites.
- 9 Monitor TELUVIA LIMITED's credit score and any new county court judgment, and review the holding companies' credit standing before extending large credit.

How this report was produced

This is a sample report. The company, the people, the places and the figures in it are fictional: names, numbers, dates and events have been changed so that it describes no real company or person. It shows the structure and depth of a full investigation.

This report was compiled by an analyst. It draws on the searches listed under searches conducted, run between 9 and 10 October 2026, and on primary records read directly: Companies House records, ownership registers, charges and filing histories of the group and the founders' companies; confirmation statements and share returns of Orrin Topco; group accounts for 2019 to 2025 and the 2025 accounts of Carlowe Capital, Quillstream and Handsetly; the insolvency records of 264 companies the directors have served and the liquidation filings of the founders' failed companies; the Gazette; the Individual Insolvency Register; the disqualified directors register; three Commercial Court judgments and tribunal decisions; the Information Commissioner's penalties list; Ofcom enforcement records and information request replies; Advertising Standards Authority rulings; the government's payment practices and gender pay gap services; the Electoral Commission and Charity Commission registers; commercial credit reports and county court judgment records for the group and director credit checks for the key figures; certificate logs and domain records; and the websites of Teluvia, Carlowe and Handsetly. Press coverage was read and tied to each person by name, role, company and age.

A record is attributed to a subject only when something beyond the name ties it to them, such as a company number, a date of birth, an employer or a role. Records that match a name alone are counted and not listed.

Limitations

This report reflects what public, commercial and breach sources held between 9 and 10 October 2026. Absence from a source is evidence of absence from that source only. Court case files beyond published judgments are outside the scope of this report. Credit scores are a commercial model's view on the date read. Watch-list screening covered the company, nine related companies and seven people. Share counts come from the latest statements that list holders; holdings may have changed since. Several of the founders' smaller companies had not yet filed their 2025 accounts. Claims the company makes about itself are reported as its claims.

Confidentiality

This report contains personal and security-sensitive information and is intended solely for Example Client Ltd. It should not be copied or distributed further. Leaked passwords are masked throughout.
